Joshua “Josh” Moore
Grafton High School
Class of 2018

PROFILE

Josh’s Experiences at Grafton High School

Josh completed a course of study that included core academic courses as well as career and technical education courses. When asked about the courses he has found most beneficial to his current employment, he reported the math skills he learned are used daily to complete work tasks. During his time at Grafton High School (GHS), Josh enjoyed participating on the boy’s basketball team where he held the shooting guard position.

Post-secondary Education and Training

Upon graduating from GHS, Josh transitioned to Thomas Nelson Community College (TNCC) to complete coursework required for the engineering program. He also continued to pursue his love of basketball as a member of the TNCC basketball team where he held the same position he enjoyed at GHS- shooting guard. Josh is extremely proud of his college experiences on and off the court. He reported his college courses are challenging and he averaged 26 points per basketball game.

Leisure Activities

Josh has a close circle of friends and enjoys spending time with them. They often play basketball in the community or online video games. He also enjoys teaching his younger siblings the game of basketball and watching them improve their skills.

Employment

Josh worked with DARS to secure employment at Naval Weapons Station where he worked part-time. He learned a vast number of skills with that first employment opportunity which qualified him for his most recent employment experience in the hospitality industry.

Upon completing his degree at TNCC, Josh plans to seek full-time employment at Newport News Shipbuilding.
